BROOKS ANNOUNCES ONE-WEEK EXTENDED RUN FOR LAMBERTON CONSERVATORY HOLIDAY SHOW

Includes Bonus Evening Hours on Sunday, January 12th

County Executive Maggie Brooks today announced the Holiday Show at Monroe County's Lambertton Conservatory in Highland Park will be extended for one additional week, through Sunday, January 12, 2014.

"Attendance for the Holiday Show has been great this season, so we've decided to give even more residents the opportunity to escape the cold temperatures and enjoy the beautiful display," said Brooks. "During Sunday's bonus evening hours the Conservatory dazzles, with colorful sparkling lights strung throughout the complex."

The Lambertton Conservatory Holiday Show features traditional holiday plants, including 1000 Poinsettias of 10 different varieties. Visitors also enjoy an eight-foot high Poinsettia pyramid, fresh evergreen Christmas Trees, and festive wreaths.

"Our seasonal plants, especially the Poinsettias, are holding up very well, so extending the Holiday Show for one additional week was an easy decision," said Larry Staub, Director of County Parks. "For those residents who did not have a chance to visit the Conservatory over the holidays, this is truly a bonus opportunity!"
